

Funding for the future

Cancer Care Western NSW Inc. Funding for Clinical Cancer Trials

Cancer Care Western NSW is a charity registered in 2007 with the aim of providing support services for cancer patients attending treatment at Orange Hospital.

After successful implementation of Western Care lodge - Cancer Care Western NSW Inc. is seeking community funding to develop a cancer clinical trial centre at Central West Cancer Services, based at Orange Hospital.

This will overcome the need for country patients to travel each week to and from Sydney for treatment.

Setting up and running an efficient clinical trials centre will require our community financial support for critical infrastructure and staffing for the first two years of the Centre's operation.

EVIDENCED BASED INFORMATION SHOWS THAT CLINICAL TRIALS:

- Result in better patient outcome
- Patients have earlier access to life prolonging drugs- these can in some cases eradicate symptoms
- Early participation in clinical trials improves survival for patients
- Give direct access to treatment-without cost prohibitive metropolitan visits
- Clinical trials generate evidence to support PBS approval of new drugs
- Exhaustive genomic and molecular analysis of tumours helps direct future therapies
- Gives access to emerging prognosis tests nationally and overseas such as circulating tumour cells

Helping fund such trials will enable patients to remain in the district and closer to home whilst receiving treatment as part of a clinical trial.
